Banca Credinvest trusts Futurae's security for its online banking

Lugano and Zurich, September 27, 2022 - Banca Credinvest's online banking solution has a new two-factor authentication (2FA) partner. Futurae Technologies AG has been selected as the new cybersecurity vendor for all customer authentication. Online banking users will benefit from the easy, secure and flexible login experience provided by Futurae's two-factor authentication platform.

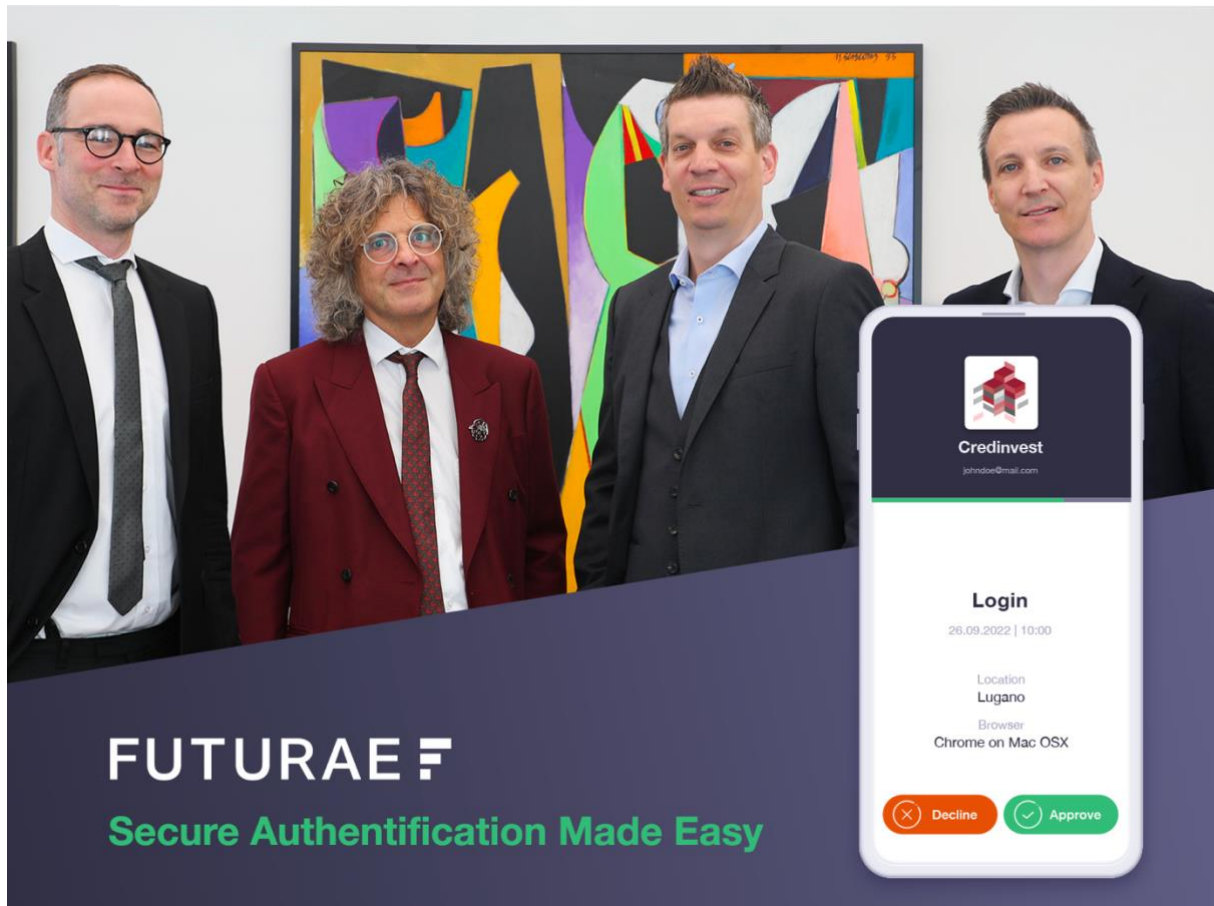

Banca Credinvest SA is an independent Swiss Bank based in Lugano and Zurich. The bank provides investment management services and online banking to private and institutional clients. With the help of Swiss cyber expert Futurae Technologies, Banca Credinvest sets new standards for online banking security and usability.

Banca Credinvest customers benefit from the new online banking app that protects their accounts and data from unauthorized access. As the new app replaces hardware tokens, it offers multiple advantages, including enhanced security from theft, code breaches and man-in-the-middle attacks. Furthermore, Banca Credinvest eliminates the need to maintain and administer easy-to-lose hardware tokens. As a result of integrating Futurae, Credinvest customers enjoy an effortless onboarding process and intuitive login experience.

Futurae's authentication platform secures web, app, and IoT-based customer interactions. Customers can deploy Futurae's various authentication methods in a flexible and modular manner. As a result, companies increase security and protect their users' privacy. Even in complex IT landscapes, the easily integrated platform provides seamless customer experiences, real-time fraud detection and fraud prevention.

Massimo Bertini-Morini, COO at Banca Credinvest, sums up the benefits of the cooperation: "Apart from maximum security, data protection and user-friendliness, we were particularly delighted by the quick integration in just two weeks."

Sandra Tobler, co-founder and CEO of Futurae, added: "The collaboration has been a great success and we look forward to supporting Banca Credinvest with our security expertise and continuous innovation in user-friendly security."
